

LUX OPENS TRAINING TODAY; INTEREST IN BOUT MOUNTS

Seating Arrangements at McNulty Park for Next Monday Night's Battle Completed—Ring to Be Over Home Plate—Warrick Smith to Challenge Winner—Oklahoma City Seeks to Match Britton and Long—Gibbons-Wilson Bout Probably Is Off.

By B. A. BRIDGEWATER
Morris Lux will be in Tulsa bright and early Tuesday morning ready to begin the last lap of training for his 12-round decision battle with welterweight Champion Jack Britton at McNulty park here next Monday night. Britton will arrive Thursday morning from Omaha.

Both camps heard from. Telegrams were received Monday by matchmaker Louis Newman from both Lux's and Britton's managers, advising of their impending trips to Tulsa. Lux planned to leave Kansas City for Tulsa at 11 o'clock Monday night with his manager, Jake Feinberg, according to a message from Feinberg. Positive news that Britton would come Thursday was contained in a wire to that effect from the titleholder's manager, Dan Morgan. Morgan and Britton are resting in Omaha after the champion's bout with Cowboy Padgett last week.

Lux is due to start his local training with a workout at 2:30 this afternoon at the Tulsa Athletic club gym in the basement of the Terminal hotel. Chick Hinton has arranged to furnish sparring partners for the Kansas City aspirant. Chick's light-heavyweight entry, Sailor Glenn Chickner, will don the gloves with Morris, and Kid Spack also will work with him.

While Lux has a whole week to prepare for Britton he will not have to go through any hard process in order to arrive at top form. The Kansas City youth has been training steadily in a Kansas City gym for weeks. In fact, Morris is like Britton in one way—he trains every day, week in and week out, regardless of whether he has a match in prospect or not.

INTEREST MOUNTS EAST
In BIG MAY 15 fight, interest in the Britton-Lux encounter is rapidly mounting. Fans seem entirely satisfied with the bout. Instead of diminishing Lux's prestige, as one might imagine, the Kansas City Hebrew's recent fight with Warrick Smith here seems to have increased his standing locally. A majority of the fans you meet think Smith is lucky to land on Lux's paw as he did in the first round, and Lux's superb exhibition of gameness in sticking out the 12 rounds made him hundreds of admirers.

Matchmaker Louis Newman says he is receiving more inquiries about this scrap than any that has been offered Tulsa fans in the 12 months that he has been connected with the boxing game here. Even a week before the night of the bout dozens of telephone calls are being received, not only from local people but from others outside the city as well, inquiring as to when the advance sale will open, how the prices will run and so on.

Newman Monday announced the definite scale of prices, and also how the ring would be installed. The ring will be placed on a platform the center of which will be directly over the home plate. There will be 10 rows of chairs ranged about the ring, which will be for the top price of $5 each. Choice boxes in the grandstand also will command ring-side prices. Seats in other boxes and reserved seats in the immediate vicinity opposite the home plate will go for $4, while the $3 seats will be the sections of the grandstand immediately to the right and left of the reserved center. Two sections in each end of the grandstand will go for the general admission price of $2. Negro fans will be cared for in the small bleacher section. The bleacher admission price will be $1, bleacher seats being sold to none but negroes.

WARRICK SMITH TO CHALLENGE
WINNER OF BRITTON-LUX GO
While plans for the Morris Lux-Jack Britton affair progress and fans become heated over the first appearance of a pugilistic champion here in many months, there is one young man not very far from Tulsa who feels pretty bad over the whole thing. He is Warrick Smith, the sensational Bartlesville welterweight, who cut such a merry swath in Flintonia until rudely halted some weeks ago by the ungracious Cowboy Padgett.

Warrick called his manager, Louis Newman, over long distance telephone Monday and informed him something as follows:
"Wen, Louis, I'm working hard here every day—and believe me, boy, I'm getting off this weight. I'll look little by next Monday night and I'll tell you what I want to do. I want to get in the ring before Britton and this Lux go on—and challenge the winner. How about it? Huh?"

To all of which Newman gave hearty assent. And so it will be. Warrick, who would be boxing Britton this time but for his setback at the hands of Padgett early last month will challenge the winner. He may get the match—and again he is ready to ask for it. He has been training for more than a week now, ever since throwing away the crutches made necessary when he injured an ankle in an automobile mishap a short time after he fought Padgett. When he started training Warrick weighed in the neighborhood of 163 pounds, but he is much lighter now.

OKLAHOMA CITY MAY GET
BRITTON FOR A DATE
Reports from Oklahoma City Monday were that an effort would be made to line up Jack Britton for a bout there with Ray Long of Kingsfield while he is in this part of the country. It was reported at the same time that the scheduled match between Johnny Wilson, middleweight champion, and Mike Gibbons of St. Paul, announced for the latter part of this month, probably would be cancelled as a result of Gibbons' defeat Saturday night in New York at the hands of his old rival Mike O'Dowd. The promoters were forced to guarantee Wilson the huge sum of $25,000 for this bout, and now Gibbons has been decisively whipped by Mike O'Dowd, who twice was beaten by Wilson, it is doubtful whether the house would be large enough to give the club putting on the bout anything like an even break. And that is the reason they're trying to get lined up with Britton for an appearance in the capital shortly after he goes on with Lux at McNulty park here.

Western Association
Shortstop Pitches.
SPRINGFIELD, Mo., May 8.—With Robbins, a recruit shortstop, pitching and Outfielder Price behind the plate, the Springfield Cardinals defeated the Okmulgee Drillers 9 to 4 in the opening game of the series. Home runs by Cotnam and Hazen featured Springfield's batting attack.

The score by innings: R. H. E.
Okmulgee . . . 100 002 010—4 5 0
Springfield . . . 022 040 101—9 11 0

FREDDY PARTON SETS PACE FOR SITKUM IN RACE

Derailed Car Delays First Race; Good Feature on Tonight's Program

Freddy Parton set the pace for Sitkum in the special matched race at the Mid-Continent racing course last night, in the feature event of a good program. Parton's Colby paced the three-sixteenth mile in 19.3 seconds, just one second behind the record, and led Pete Martin's thoroughbred by three lengths.

The program was held up half an hour when a car was derailed on the crossing at West Tulsa.

Tonight's feature event promises to be a thriller. With Oakland Harbor, William Dillon, Honeycuckle, Hopark, Olive Cannon and Dutch Bergman lined up against each other, the race is bound to be a classic.
